(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, July 20.—The railroad wage increases totalling almost $600,000,000 a year were awarded today by the United States railroad labor board.

Union leaders went into session almost immediately after the printed decision had been made public. They expect by their approval or disapproval today or tomorrow to indicate whether business will move ahead now or whether it will be continued to be hampered by strikes.

The wage increases awarded for the most part were on an hourly basis ranging from thirteen to fifteen cents per hour for the most poorly paid workmen to an average of eight to ten cents for higher grades such as trainmen and engine men.

The increases roughly average from twenty to twenty-seven per cent. Demands by the unions run from thirty to sixty per cent.

Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the railroad labor board after announcement of the awards said:

"This award necessarily in time will have to be paid by the public and will result in increased freight rates.

"Efficient railroad service has been difficult and seems to be impossible with the men receiving the wages they did. The board has been fair and just in this complex and intricate problem."

E. T. Whittier, chairman of the executive board of railroad managers, after a cursory reading of the decision, said:

"I have not read the decision entirely but I can say that the railroads will abide by the board's award."

Timothy Shea, head of the firemen brotherhood, merely said the board's decision would be carefully considered at a meeting of the nearly 2,000 union leaders and a formal statement made after each section of the award had been considered.

The decision after a preamble setting forth the history of the board and difficulties in the way of reaching a satisfactory decision, tabulated the increase according to classes of workmen.

The document contains a list of the roads effected including ninety-five per cent of the railroad mileage of the country. The first section was devoted to clerical and station forces, including storekeepers, station forces, freight platform men and common labor with increases ranging from five to thirteen cents.

The second section covers maintenance of way and structural workmen. In this list were the bridge and building workers, the trainmen, mechanics and their helpers, draw-bridge tenders and common round-house laborers. The awards range from 8½ cents an hour for track and common labor to fifteen cents for foremen and their assistants.

The third section covers shop employees giving thirteen cents increase an hour to supervisory forces, machinists and blacksmiths, boilermakers, moulders, cupola tenders, electrical workers and all apprentices.

Car cleaners were awarded five cents more an hour.

Telegraphers, telephone operators and agents were included in the fourth section which covers agents, telegraphers, powermen, lever men, block operators and train directors. These were given a ten cent an hour increase.

Enginemen are included in the fifth section. All passenger engine men were given eight-tenths of a cent a mile increase, or eighty cents per day. Freight enginemen were given .14 cents per mile or $1.04 increase per day.

JACK JOHNSON IS ARRESTED ON A WHITE SLAVE CHARGE

BLACK PUGILIST CROSSES BORDER AND ARREST FOLLOWS—
PLACED UNDER $15,000
BONDS

(By United Press)

San Diego, Cal., July 20.—Jack Johnson, fugitive pugilist, crossed the international boundary line today and was placed under arrest on a white slave charge.

Johnson was convicted of white slavery six years ago. He was charged with transporting a white girl by the name of Bertha Schreiber from Pittsburgh to Chicago. The girl formerly lived in Minneapolis.

Johnson was released on $15,000 bonds pending an appeal. The conviction was sustained and Johnson departed from the country. He was at the time in the heat of his career as heavyweight champion of the world. The incident followed his marriage to a white girl in Chicago.

The negro fled to southern countries defying efforts of United States authorities to apprehend him. While a fugitive he fought Jess Willard at Havana, Cuba, and lost his heavyweight title. Federal authorities attended the fight but were unable to interfere with Johnson's movements.

VOLSTEAD GIVEN NOMINATION; KVALE OUSTED BY COURT

JUDGE JOHNSON DECIDES KVALE
VIOLATED CORRUPT PRACTICE
ACT BY MAKING FALSE
CHARGES

SUIT BROUGHT BY FRIENDS OF VOLSTEAD WHO MAY BE RE-ELECTED

(By United Press)

Benson, Minn., July 20.—Andrew J. Volstead today was awarded the republican nomination for congressman in the seventh district by Judge Albert Johnson of Red Wing. Volstead contested the nomination of Rev. O. J. Kvale, endorsed by the national nonpartisan league.

The contest was brought by forty three friends of Volstead who charged Kvale with violation of the corrupt practice act through publication of statement derogatory to Volstead, and through verbal accusations against his opponent, who is at present representative of the seventh district in congress.

When the case was tried here attorneys for both sides agreed to confine arguments practically to the sole issue of whether Kvale violated the corrupt practice act by charging Volstead with being an atheist.

The court holds that Kvale's charges were in error, holding in effect that Volstead is not an atheist.

"As a conclusion," read the decision, "the court finds that the contestee is guilty of violation of the law of this state in relation to the nomination. That because of such violation the contestee was not duly or legally nominated for office of congressman in said district in said primary election, and is not entitled to have his name placed or printed upon ballots as candidate for that office. That because of the facts herein found, Andrew J. Volstead was duly nominated."

Must Have Cars For Wheat

St. Paul, July 20.—Freight cars to handle crops must be sent to Minnesota and other northwest states immediately if a financial panic is to be averted. This was the conclusion of a number of bankers, grain and elevator men at the office of the railroad and warehouse commissioner at the state capitol today.

Charles Jaffrey, Minneapolis banker, said the situation is acute and the matter of credit to farmers will be seriously effected if they can not get cars to move the crops at once.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R. TO REDUCE FORCE

TEN PER CENT CUT THIS WEEK
ANNOUNCED—HELP APPLIC-ABLE ONLY TO EAST

In the eastern region alone, which takes in the territory east of Altoona, between 11,000 and 12,000 workers will be laid off.

It was stated the reduction was necessary because expenses have been exceeding income for some time.

In view of this condition, the verbal announcement said, it was decided to "trim sails" and put economies into operation.

The reduction affects the entire system. A formal announcement was to be issued tonight.

48-ER BOLTERS ARE CALLED 'PINK TEA UPLIFTERS'

Chicago, July 20.—The new farmer-labor party will conduct "a nationwide, 24-hour day, seven-day week, town hall, street corner and front porch campaign," Parley Parker Christensen, its presidential candidate, said in a statement issued before he left Chicago for Denver and Salt Lake City to arrange his business affairs preparatory to a speaking tour in every state.

Mr. Christensen said the new party was undisturbed by the defection of certain members of the committee of 48, whom he styled "coupon clipping intellectuals" and "pink tea uplifters," and declared that they did not represent the committee of 48, the great majority of whose delegates to last week's convention, he asserted, "voted in the affirmative on the platform and candidates chosen by the combined Farmer-Labor convention."

THIRD YACHT RACE BEING SAILED IN A VERY LIGHT WIND

SHAMROCK GETS BEST OF START
BUT IS SOON OVERHAULED
AND PASSED BY RESOLUTE

CHALLENGER THEN GETS BREEZE
AND PASSED THE DEFENDER
LEADING BY HALF MILE

By HENRY FARRELL
(Written for the United Press)

Aboard the United States Destroyer Goldsborough, via Wireless to the United Press, July 20.—The third day of sailing for America's yacht cup started today in a breeze of five knots. The preliminary signal sounded at noon for start at 12:15.

The number of sight seeing crafts was considerable smaller than the first two days of the race. The breeze which had registered about fourteen knots earlier in the morning, continued to drop and was making about three knots as time approached for the yachts to cross the line.

The Shamrock led across the line at the start.

The wind had died down so the yacht moved slowly as it crossed the line. Five minutes after starting the Resolute was footing it nearly even with the challenger.

The official start was: Shamrock, 12:15:48; Resolute, 12:16:26. At 12:32 the Resolute passed the Shamrock to the leeward.

Ten minutes after the start the Resolute was leading by fifty yards. Fifteen minutes after the start the Resolute had increased her lead to two hundred yards.

Shortly before 1 P. M. the Resolute was more than a fourth of a mile ahead and going easily.

The Resolute ran into soft spots soon after 1 P. M. and the Shamrock drew up until less than one-fourth of a mile astern.

The Shamrock passed the Resolute to the windward and went into the lead again. The Shamrock was one-fourth of a mile ahead at 1:25.

Both yachts worked to the windward over the first mark and at 1:30 the Shamrock bore away from it with the Resolute three hundred yards astern. On the shore a southwest breeze appeared to be working out toward the course.

The Shamrock was the first to pick up a breath of air from the southwest and lengthened her lead to nearly half a mile but the first buoy was still about four miles to the leeward.

Shamrock Leads Resolute 300 Yards at Half Way

Handled along by a little more forecast sail the Shamrock IV, challenger of America's cup, today established a lead of several hundred yards early in the second race of the series with the Resolute.

The Resolute was leading at the line and for a short time after starting, but hit a soft spot and the challenger forged ahead establishing a good lead before the end of the first ten miles.

As they rounded the turn the Shamrock increased her lead but the Resolute picked up. At fifteen miles the Shamrock was still about three hundred yards in the lead.

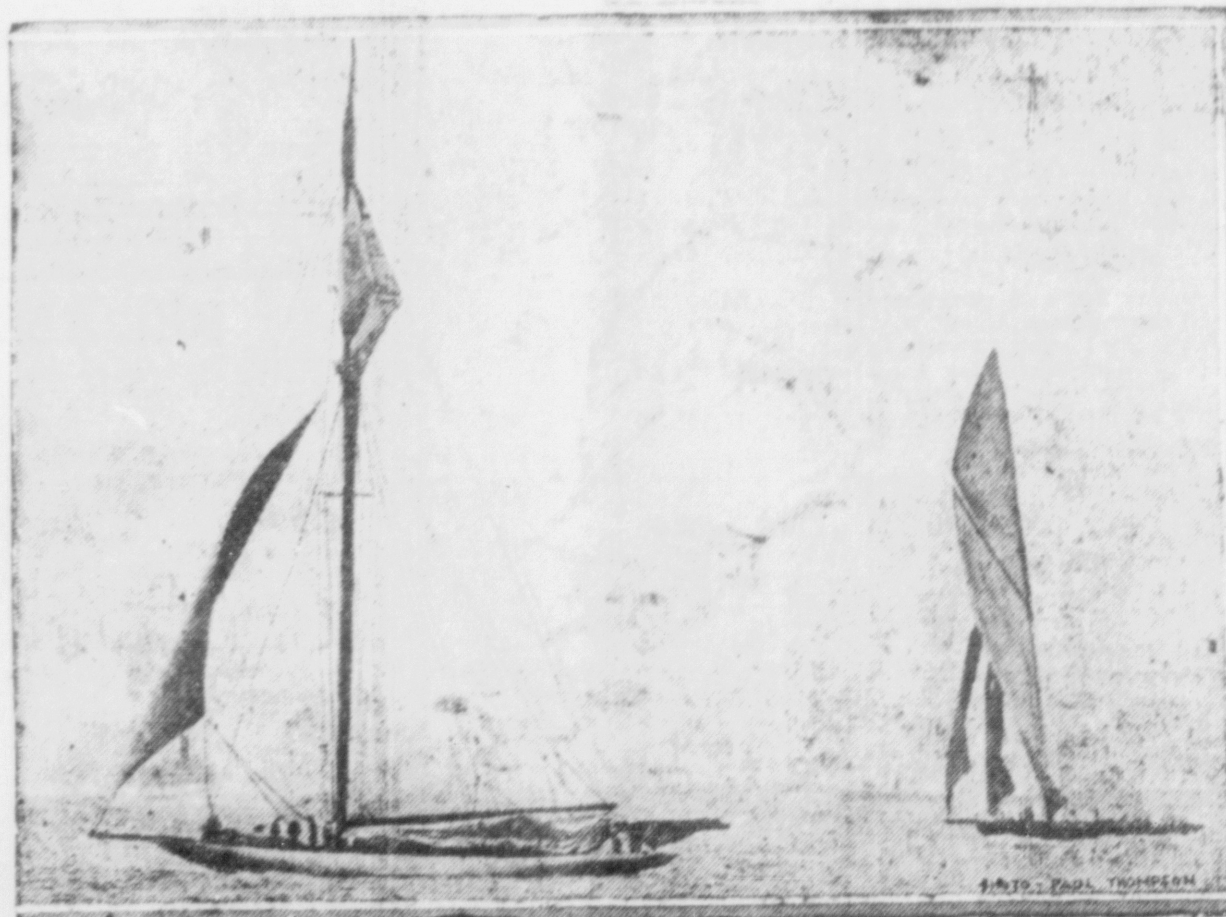

MOORE DECLINES CHAIRMANSHIP, WHITE MAY BE APPOINTED

Columbus, Ohio, July 20.—After a two hours' conference at Governor Cox's residence today in which the governor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Ed H. Moore of Youngstown, Ohio, and George White of Marietta, Ohio, participated, it was announced that Moore had positively declined to become democratic national chairman.

It was stated White would likely run the campaign providing the national committee would create a special campaign committee and make White its head.

Shamrock About to Pass Disabled America's Cup Defender

This remarkable photograph shows the Shamrock IV, just as she was about to pass the Resolute, America's cup defender, after the American yacht had been forced to withdraw gaff of the mainsail in its place on because of the parting of her throat the mast. When the photograph was halyards holding the lower end of the made the yachts were near the turn.

LAID BY FOR THE WINTER

Housewives of Early New York Dis-satisfied With Less Than a Six-Months' Supply.

The eleventh hour, or, rather, six o'clock rush to the delicatessen store that marks the approach of dinner in these days of frenzied housewifery would have seemed a strange madcap phenomenon to the good housewives of old New York. They would have felt ill provided should they have had less than six months' provisions in the larder.

According to the memory of one small boy of seventy-five years ago the thrifty Dutch folk who lived along the west side of what is now downtown New York laid in stores in October and November to last until April or May. They bought a quarter of beef, a hog or a sheep to furnish the pieces de resistance of the winter's meals. The beef was corned or smoked. The pork and mutton was similarly cured and put away. The smoking was done in public smoke houses, maintained for profit.

A barrel of flour, two or three of apples and potatoes added the vegetable content to the menus. Other supplies to lend variety were laid by in lesser quantities. All sorts of farm products were purchasable in the fall at minimum prices, because at that time many sailing vessels and barges came down the river from upstate laden with stores. As winter and the closing of the river approached the farmers and merchants grew anxious to dispose of their stocks and the townfolk consequently bought at an advantage, which they were not slow to take.—New York Evening Sun.

CREED FOR EVERY AMERICAN

Undeniable "Good Thing" to Which All Citizens Should Subscribe and Pass Along.

Nearly every reader is familiar with the expression, "It's a good thing, pass it along." The other day attention was attracted by a "good thing" which is here passed along. It is a "financial creed" for every man, woman and child suggested by the savings directors of the 12 federal reserve districts. Read it carefully. It is as follows:

I believe in the United States of America. My opportunity and hope depend upon her future.

I believe that her stability and progress rest upon the industry and thrift of her people.

Therefore, I will work hard and live simply.

I will spend less than I earn.

I will use my earnings with care.

I will save consistently.

I will invest thoughtfully.

To increase the financial strength of my country and myself, I will buy government securities.

I will hold above barrier the obligations my country thus incurs.

I will do these things to insure the greatness of America's future.

Fish Nets, the First Lace.

Examine a piece of fine and costly lace. What is it fundamentally?

It is a net. By origin it is a fish net. The first lacemaker was a fisherman, or perhaps his wife.

All of the beautiful laces we know today are developed from that clever invention, the fish net. They hark back, therefore, far into the prehistoric.

The first white men who came to America found no lacemakers on this continent, but they did find the Indians weaving fabrics of cotton, yucca and other fabrics, with elaborate pattern designs. They were particularly skillful at a certain sort of "drawn-work."

The California Indians of today make cotton lace, but the art has been taught to them by white people. The pottery they make for sale is sometimes adorned with this lace.

Which suggests mention of the fact that the early Indians often decorated their pottery with textile patterns by impressing the latter upon the clay while soft.

Women Demand Grit.

If you have the grit you can command respect. The world doesn't want any fawning apologies. That may serve a purpose under some "weak sister" circumstances, but never under the greatest need. Some folks wonder why it is that "all the world loves a lover." The fact is a lover must have grit. Women want their heroes to be leaders, daring, irresistible. They want men who do things. They even like to be made do a few things they protest but enjoy just the same. Weaklings do not dare such audacity. They fear they will lose the maiden's smiles. As a matter of fact it's the daring and the assurance that wins. "Faint heart never won fair lady" we are told. Even in lovemaking you must have grit. And what's more the fellow that does not have grit doesn't deserve to win. Why should a woman waste herself on a motley-coddle? Be a man if you would win.—Grit.

Appeal to Snobbishness.

"That umbrella repairer has a flattering approach."

"What is it?"

"First asks the lady of the house if she has any golf clubs to mend."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Answer.

"Why do they try so much hot air pressure on witnesses?"

"I suppose it is because they 'ain't to pump them."

MINNEAPOLIS ELKS ROUNDUP

Minneapolis Lodge No. 44 Follows a Hunch Gained in Chicago at the Time of National Meet

ENGAGES STATE FAIR GROUNDS

Will Stage a World's Championship Contest of Cowboy Sports With $8000 Prizes

The Brainerd Dispatch is in receipt of this letter from Frank E. Reed, Exalted Ruler of Minneapolis Lodge No. 44:

July 19, 1920

Dear Mr. Editor:

The Elks of Minneapolis Lodge No. 44, following a hunch obtained at Chicago when the gigantic Grand Lodge Convention there was entertained the week of July 4th by a western roundup, are putting on at the State Fair grounds, July 28, 29, 30, 31 a World's Championship Contest of Cowboy Sports.

$8000 in prizes have been hung up and competition is open to the world. It is in no sense a show put on by a traveling organization, but a genuine competition and we guarantee that there will be more crack cowboys and cowgirls competing here than ever competed in the famous Frontier Days Roundup at Chicago.

Under the arrangements which we have made with the promoter of this contest, Bro. J. E. Brown, Secretary of Sioux Falls Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, the local lodge is to receive a fifth of the net proceeds. This money will be devoted to a special charity fund. One of the charities which will be provided for out of the fund which we expect to raise through this event, is to procure an automobile bus for the use of crippled children who desire to attend public school and Sunday school.

I am enclosing to you a ticket for yourself and lady. I know you will enjoy this because it will be the biggest event of its kind ever given in Minnesota, and for that matter, in the entire Northwest. I hope that you will be present, and also I would greatly appreciate any publicity which you may be able to give the event in your next publication.

This contest is put on at an expense of practically $25,000, and of course we must have large publicity to attract a sufficiently big crowd. I am enclosing to you our lodge circular, which will give you a very good idea of what the entertainment is to be.

I trust that I am not asking too much of you, and any courtesy that you may show this lodge will be very respectfully and deeply appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
FRANK E. REED,
Exalted Ruler

LOW PRICE MAY CAUSE MICHIGAN CHERRY LOSS

Lansing, Mich., July 20—Hundreds of bushels of Michigan cherries will not be harvested because of unsatisfactory market conditions, according to A. J. Rogers, of Beulah, Mich., an officer of the National Cherry Growers' association. Mr. Rogers asserts the margin between the prevailing price in markets available to the growers, and the labor cost for picking, is so slight that orchard owners will leave the fruit on the trees.

JONAH MERELY A MOUTHFUL

Monster Fish Recently Caught at Miami, Fla., Could Have Accommodated Twenty Prophets.

Was Jonah swallowed by a whale? According to the biblical story it was a fish of this nature that entertained the prophet in its interior for three days and nights, but the limited size of the whale's throat precludes the possibility of its swallowing a man.

However, there was caught at Miami, Fla., recently, a fish that could have lunched on 20 Jonahs without suffering the slightest pang of indigestion, and among the many persons who have seen the fish are clergymen who have formulated the theory that it was really a fish of this species that swallowed Jonah.

Here is the way this denizen of the deep shapes up in the way of dimensional figures: The net weight of the fish, when caught, not including its last meal, was 30,000 pounds. Its liver alone touched the beam at 1,700 pounds, which is about the weight of a hefty bullock. From end to end it measures 45 feet, which is equal to the combined length of eight normal men. At the thickest part the circumference is 23 feet 9 inches.

One of the most impressive features of the fish is its mouth, which is 50 inches wide and 43 inches deep. Inside of the mouth is a tongue 40 inches, and it has a multitude of teeth much smaller than a baby's. Nobody has ever attempted to count these molars. The tail resembles the caudal appendage of an airplane and measures 10 feet from tip to tip.

But big as the fish is, it died in infancy. Scientists who have measured its cartilaginous formations say they are far from developed and that had this monster attained full growth it would have been two and a half times as large as it is now.

According to the scientists of the Smithsonian institution the animal is a whale-shark, and is the first specimen of its kind that has been captured. They state further that it is an inhabitant of water of 1,500 feet depth, its hide of sufficient thickness to withstand the most enormous water pressure, and its eyes, which have no lids and consequently were never closed, indicating that it dwelt as a depth where eyes are of no avail.

The Smithsonian scientists believe that it was thrown up by some subterranean volcanic disturbance, which injured its diving apparatus so that it was unable to return to its natural levels and that thus disabled it strayed beyond confines fixed for the monsters of the deep.

Capt. Charles H. Thompson of Miami, caught the fish while cruising for tarpon off Knight's key, Florida.—New York Independent.

GASOLINE RESERVE GAINS

Talk of 50-cent gasoline is nonsense, according to a statement issued to members recently by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. An investigation discloses that the present increased prices are due to the fact that too little drilling was done last year, the statement says and adds that prospects for a greatly increased production and resultant lowering of prices were very good. It was not believed that gasoline will go above 35 cents or 36 cents at retail. "Next year," the report reads, "gasoline should again sell at less than 30 cents a gallon."

"Your committee hopes to issue a definite statement that will reassure the country as to the gasoline supply," the report concludes, "and effectually shut off the hysterical statements of well-meaning but not always well informed individuals who talk about 50-cent gasoline."

A later bulletin from the same source reports that the gasoline reserve supply about the middle of June was 626,000,000 gallons, showing a production gain of 63,000,000 gallons over consumption in one month. "This report," says the bulletin, "serves to offset some of the startling statements that have been made regarding the gasoline supply. In fact, the gasoline scare has been largely psychological, in the opinion of the Federal Trade Commission. The year has begun fortunately, however, and there are many factors which point to increased production."

NOVEL PUBLICITY

The plan to film St. Cloud industries and through lectures and exhibitions in moving picture theatres throughout the surrounding country advertise St. Cloud is a novel publicity plan. It is the things out of the ordinary that attract attention and no doubt St. Cloud would gain a great deal of advertising out of the plan. The movement seems to be well received by the St. Cloud business men and much interest is being aroused in the plan.—St. Cloud Daily Times.

Drying Decanters.

An excellent and quick method for drying the inside of decanters, vinegar bottles, etc., which are in daily use: After washing out thoroughly with hot water, turn upside down and allow very hot water to run over the outside about a minute. America Uses 700 Billion Matches.
Few realize the immense labor, capital and material used to produce matches. Thousands of men are employed, millions of dollars invested and vast forests cut down to meet the demand in America of 700 billion matches a year. A constant search is in progress for large forests of perfect trees to meet the future needs.—F. H. Cheley in "Stories for Talks to Boys."

SAY THE LAWS DON'T WORK OUT

John Villwock, Former Bertha Farmer, Now North Dakota Resident, Talks of League Laws

IS FRIEND OF HARRY A. KNAPP

Says the Promises Sounded Fine, But Socialist Laws Don't Work Right at All

Harry A. Knapp, traveling salesman of Brainerd, gave the Dispatch the following clipping from the "Long Prairie Leader" taking up various phases of socialism as being tried out in North Dakota. The farmer mentioned, John Villwock, is well known to Mr. Knapp as honest and reliable.

The "Long Prairie Leader" states: John Villwock, former well known farmer of Bertha and Hewitt community, is here this week from Stanley, N. D., and to The Leader gave some interesting information about how the Socialist laws in North Dakota actually work in practice.

"The promises sound fine," said Mr. Villwock, "when the League speakers are talking, but after three years' experience with their laws don't work out as promised."

"Take the dockage law for instance," said Mr. Villwock. "You have heard a good deal about that down here in Minnesota. As a matter of fact, it amounts to little or nothing. The farmer gets nothing for dockage, as dockage is usually understood by farmers. In North Dakota sometimes grain is mixed. Grain of one crop shells if the harvest is a little late and this occurs more frequently in North Dakota than down here in Todd county, because the fields are larger and sometimes the grain gets over-ripe before the harvest is completed. This means that the next year this shelled grain sprouts and grows. If the old crop was rye and the new crop wheat, the farmer, when he hauls his grain to the elevator, has mixed grain in his sacks. What the dockage law does is this—when such grain is marketed, the elevator is allowed two cents per bushel to clean the grain and one cent per bushel dockage or three cents per bushel. The farmer is then paid for whatever the two kinds of grain amount to. All this talk about the farmer getting paid for wild oats, seeds, etc., etc., is based on misunderstanding. During the three years I have farmed in North Dakota, I have not had enough mixed grain to pay me to allow the elevator man the three cents per bushel for cleaning, etc. This is the case with most farmers up there. As a matter of fact, if a farmer farms right, there is very little mixed grain in his threshed crop. This dockage law is what you might call a 'talking point'—good to talk about, but as a reform it amounts to little or nothing. There was never a time, anyway, when if a farmer had much mixed grain and he wasn't getting a square deal at the elevator, that he couldn't buy a fan mill and clean the grain himself."

In the matter of taxes, Mr. Villwock owns 440 acres in North Dakota which he has farmed for three years. In 1917, his taxes were $28 per quarter. In 1918, they were the same, but in 1919, after the League got in to complete control and began managing things, his taxes jumped up to from $48 to $53 per quarter. This does not include the half tax which, of course, was added. Mr. Villwock was not sure if it contained the compulsory three cents per acre half tax or not, but he was certain that it did not contain the larger half tax, which is added if you decide to stay in and take the half insurance. Mr. Villwock said that practically all of this increase was due to increased State taxes under the Townley rule. He said the Townleyites made the same promises of reduced taxes in North Dakota that they are making here in Minnesota, yet as soon as they got complete control of the state and began to manage things, the North Dakota taxes jumped higher than the state had ever known.

Mr. Villwock said the Townley half insurance scheme didn't amount to much either. There is a compulsory three cents per acre tax to start with. Every farmer pays this whether he has half insurance or not. Then if he wants half insurance, he has to pay extra. In no case could he insure for more than $7 per acre, which in case of a loss, wouldn't much more than give a man his seed back.

Mr. Villwock talked about the League's scheme to cut down farm taxes by exempting farm improvements from taxation and said that in practice the scheme had worked just the opposite from what it's authors intended and said it would. He said that it loaded the taxes onto the poor man and exempted the well-to-do man. "I cannot be accused of complaining about this law, because it really helps me," he said, "but just the same it is not a fair law and illustrates well how poorly these League leaders understand things. The law exempts farm machinery up to $1,000 and it exempts all improvements on farm lands. Take my case, for instance. (Continued on Page 5)

He gets a vast amount of information from all departments and feature articles and finds valuable material that helps him in his daily life. WOMAN SUICIDE FINAL TRAGEDY

Mrs. George Martin, Whose Husband Killed William Hetherington Takes Her Life

HETHERINGTON KNOWN HERE

Age-old Triangle Story of Real Life Resulted in Murder, Imprisonment and Suicide

A Duluth report tells of the death of Mrs. George Martin, aged 28, who died from the effects of self-administered poison. The suicide of this young woman was prompted by the notoriety received through a recent Head of the Lakes scandal in which figured the killing of William Hetherington of St. Cloud, by Mrs. Martin's husband and the subsequent sentencing of Martin to state's prison.

With the murder of Hetherington, the death of the woman and the husband serving an indefinite term behind Stillwater's bars, this can be written at the close of another of the age-old triangle stories of real life.

Hetherington was a machinist who at one time was employed in the Brainerd shops.

BASEBALL BUNTS

The Little Falls Transcript stated Saturday the Little Falls semi-pro ball team went to Swanville Friday night for what was expected to be a practice game in preparation for the Clyde games at Little Falls, and were defeated by a score of 2 to 1 at the hands of the Swanville all-home team, most of the members of which look after their farms six days out of the week and play ball on Sunday for a pastime. Swanville played an excellent game of ball and Little Falls put up a very poor exhibition. Swanville's left fielder got four putouts and the center fielder three.

Little Falls has two players in the 300 list, Armstrong with 355 and Berger with 318.

Swanville may also be a contender for the Simon pure amateur championship of the state. Little Falls was defeated 2 to 1, and Clark 11 to 5. The Swanville team has lost but one game this season, and at that time two members of the team were absent.

Burrton won 15 to 10 from Eagle Bend.

Pete Morse may be engaged by Little Falls for second base and Lefty Bye, Verdale pitcher, added to their pitching staff.

Melrose defeated Long Prairie 17 to 6.

Sartell won from Kimball 8 to 7.

The Melrose Granite team defeated the St. Cloud Reformatory nine by a 5 to 4 score, the outcome being in doubt until the last man was put out.

A Wadena-Verdale combination defeated the Pan Motors 3 to 1.

Building stone is now arriving steadily and is being hauled to the new court house where a force of masons is setting the stone in place. A large hoisting engine and boom picks up each block and the engineer cautiously following signals deposits it where needed.

The east wall of the building has the stone set for the top of the second story windows. On the north wall, the front of the building, the columns have their bases set. Window frames are in position at the east wall. Today the masons are working on the west wall.

Enough of the court house has been erected to give citizens an idea of the complete, simple and harmonious proportions it will attain. Architect Harris is in the city and is supervising construction.

His bondsmen were Ed Levant and H. E. Kundert.

NORTHWEST NEWS

Would Remove N. D. Capitol

Moorhead, Minn., July 20—Boosters for moving the state capitol to New Rockford have not abandoned hope, but have been working quietly without any brass band accompaniment. Now they announce that the necessary 20,000 signatures to petitions have been secured and they are determined to force the issue to a vote this year. One of their arguments is that the old capitol building has surpassed its usefulness and as long as a new capitol must be erected it might as well be located in the "Midway City."

Kid Circus at Faribault

Faribault, Minn., July 20—Youngsters of Faribault today were outdoing Alger's heroes in emulating stars of the "big tops."

One of the most pretentious "kid circuses" on record opened today. All Faribault children are interested in the circus and dozens of them have trained pet animals to "make 'em wild."

Side shows with miniature ballet girls, juvenile "jazz bands" and minstrels are on the program. It's a regular Huckelberry Finn circus on a mammoth scale.

Great Lakes-Tidewater Congress

Minneapolis, July 20—Representatives of Minnesota business interests were on their way to Detroit today to try and bring the Atlantic ocean to the northwest.

They will attend the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Congress which opens tomorrow. A committee of ten men will represent the grain, milling and livestock industries of the northwest at the conference.

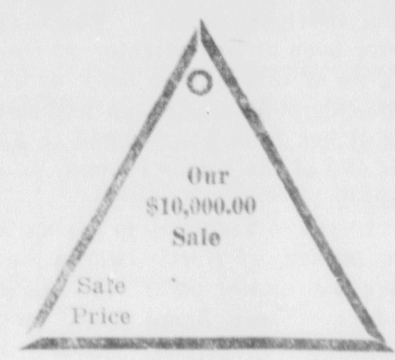

Efforts will be made to bring about an agreement to deepen the St. Lawrence and Welland canal to enable ocean-going vessels to ply the Great Lakes. Despite the tremendous cost of the project, business men believe the additional trade and lower freight rates in view would make it pay for itself in ten years. Iron ore and grain would be the chief out-going commodities to be loaded at the head of the lakes, while coal probably would have the greatest incoming tonnage.

BUTTER IS A VALUABLE FOOD

BY W. L. MCKERROW,

(Secretary Minnesota Dairy Council)
Butter production is one of the most important industries of Minnesota and is vital to the welfare of a healthy people. One pound of butter gives as much energy food as four pounds of beef or mutton or four dozen eggs and is the only edible fat which contributes the unknown substance which experiment has proven to be absolutely necessary to properly nourish the human system. Are you using butter on your table?

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, answering an inquiry in "Good Housekeeping" magazine, says: "As far as I am concerned I would never give my children oleomargarine, nut-margarine or any other substitute for butter. Butter contains a vital principle which none of its substitutes possess."

Butter is especially valuable for the children. It supplies the necessary food element, milk fat, in its most palatable and easily digested form. Why not use this great food in every home? It builds body and mind, the community and the agriculture of the entire country.

OLD BATTLE LINES

Evidences of War Thick in Vicinity of Ypres.

Shell Holes Beginning to Grow Green, but Battered Tanks Are Everywhere in Evidence on the Scenes of Slaughter.

Leaving Zeebrugge the first day's journey by motor takes the visitor something more than a hundred miles, with Ypres as the turning point and every variety of war-stricken lands and recovering countryside on the way there and back. It was a point mottled with wearisome frequency in the real days of the place—when it was "functioning," as one would have said—and among front-line troops in the salient, whether they would ever care to come back and see that foul place under a peaceful aspect. Agreed, there were those at home who might be taken, not without profit to themselves and the world in general, over the low ground under Kemmel, or where Passchendaele looked down on the swamps, and there were not a few of the armchair gentry whose instant presence would have been welcomed. But, for himself, it was the common verdict of the man in the mudhole that, once out of it, Wipers and he could be the best of friends—at a distance, says a writer in the Manchester Guardian.

Riding into the place from which rises the battered tower of the Cloth hall, in the high day and under a burning sun; coming, too, unscathed and unfeared from what was unmistakably the direction of "No Man's Land," one had to question such a verdict, and finally, under the stimulation of a hundred quickening memories, allow the appeal. For the interest of Ypres and of all the ground in front of it would not be denied. The place was like itself—in a degree hard to credit. And if only some mimic had been there to reproduce the shrill crescendo of an approaching shell one would undoubtedly have taken cover. Going out by the way of the Menin gate and turning up into the high road to Poelcapelle, with first Hooge and then St. Julien, with Passchendaele rolling up to the skyline as a background, is to pass into the field of an endless battle from which nothing has been cleared but the dead; and though elsewhere something has already been done of that "concentration" of graves which is to give our dead an orderly and lasting memorial, they still lie here, for the most part in the scattered resting places to which the hurried hands of their comrades consigned them.

The shell holes begin to grow green, but it is only a beginning, and if the trenches are almost unseen as one goes down the road, were they ever very clearly defined here? It is a long time before a place is reached from which no battered tanks can be seen, and now and again they stand three or four deep on the very edge of the road—ditched in their first attempt at the mud. To look back on war at its worst, with almost all its evidences but present slaughter, one could scarcely better the viewpoint of this road. A few miles farther, and the murdered forest of Houthulst, with its acres of stricken trees and not a live one, gives a new edge to terror. There is something sound in the notion that one can see the battle fields in a day; the repetition would give no new tone, but intrinsically the same impression. As a lesson Ypres and its province could not be surpassed. Coming out at Dixmude, behind what was an almost permanent boche line, the car returning to Zeebrugge comes again into a country which is alive. For the hinterland of Belgium has returned quickly to itself. The army huts which serve in the broken areas as shelter for those who have returned to the shattered villages, give place here to cottages already substantially repaired, and the frugal cultivation of the soil goes forward with an energy and resourcefulness typical of no class in the world so much as the Belgian or French peasantry.

Avoiding Lily Embargo.

A new and curious industry, it is predicted, is soon to be born in Vancouver, B. C., because of the embargo placed this year by the United States department of agriculture on all Japanese nursery stock packed in Japanese soil. This decree was intended to stop the importation from the island of Formosa of lily bulbs, ordinarily brought into this country at the rate of $25,000,000 worth a year. But the trade will not be suspended, nurserymen of Vancouver declare. The bulb traffic will be deflected northward to this seaport, just above the boundary; and here the bulbs will be removed from the soil in which they crossed the Pacific. They will then be repacked in Canadian loam, and so, free from "Japanese soil," will be qualified for entrance into the United States.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Oxygen Device Tested.

Because of the possible disastrous failure of an alman's oxygen supply apparatus at great altitudes, the United States bureau of standards has devised a reliable method of testing the equipment in the laboratory. All the conditions of high-altitude flights are accurately reproduced, says Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustration. The pressure in its July issue is simulated by means of a bell jar connected to an air pump.

SAYS THE LAWS DON'T WORK OUT

stance, I have a large farm and a lot of machinery. I get the benefit of the whole $1,000 of exemption. I have a neighbor who has only about $400 worth of machinery. This means that I have $600 more property exempted than he has. I have about $10,000 worth of improvements on my land. This is all exempted. My neighbor has about $4,000 of improvements. I get $6,000 more exemption than he does. However after the improvements are taken off, his land is as good as mine and so we both pay the same amount of tax. As a matter of fact, I have over twice the property investment that he has, yet under this Townley law he pays as much tax as I do. This is just a typical example and shows how League laws work out. The League leaders tried to hit the speculator and all they did was to hit the farmers and especially the farmers least able to pay."

"In the villages," he said, "the law work injustice and is going to develop a condition which is bound to be harmful. The law exempts all dwellings up to $1,000, $300 for furniture, $300 for wearing apparel and if the citizen is a workman, it exempts $300 for tools. So it is that every citizen in a village has $1,600 exemption anyway, and $1,900 exemption if he works with tools. This works out something like this: About thirty-five per cent of the population is exempted and all the tax is loaded onto the rest. The tax falls mostly upon the business men. One storekeeper told me that his taxes took his entire store every six years. One does not have to think very hard to see where this is going to lead. It is bad policy and is going to make trouble. Even the men who profit by the law and who are exempted from taxes, admit that it is a bad law, yet its one of the most boasted laws the league leaders have written and passed. The trouble with the laws which the League has passed is that they are theoretical. They sound well when urged by the League speakers, but they do not work out when applied. This tax law was not written by North Dakota citizens or tax payers, but by a big Socialist from New Zealand named Walter Thomas Mills whom the League leaders brought in. He was also assisted by another big Socialist named Roylance from Idaho. It was found, after the League got control of the state, that most of the advisers and helpers brought into the state were Socialists from the Socialist centers of the United States. They have got a lot of schemes which sound well, but which do not work well. They have bonded the state for $17,000,000 to try out some of their state ownership schemes and I am afraid that in the end, we will have to pay all these bonds by taxation. If their state ownership schemes do not work out any better than the laws they already have passed, we will certainly have to dig down in our pockets and put up the tax money to pay the debts after the crash comes."

"I am treasurer of my township," continued Mr. Villwock. "When the League bank law was passed, I had to send all the township funds to the League bank at Bismarck. I sent about $1,500. Every treasurer in the state had to do the same. The League bank pays us 2 per cent for this. We used to get from 3 to 4 per cent from the local banks. There has never been an investigator or check up of this League bank by a responsible state official, notwithstanding it has from $30,000,000 to $35,000,000 of the people's money on deposit."

"I have no hesitancy in saying that the farmers of North Dakota would have been better off if the League had never been heard from," added Mr. Villwock. "The things that were wrong could have been settled so much easier and better if the Socialists had kept out. They have stirred up things and made a lot of trouble and have really made matters worse. It is going to take us years to get over it. There are a whole lot of things which will have to be undone and done over again before the farmer gets much benefit."

This testimony from Mr. Villwock will doubtless be read with much interest by Todd county farmers, because for many years Mr. Villwock was a Todd county farmer, and after his residence in North Dakota, certainly knows what he is talking about. Before leaving Todd county, Mr. Villwock was one of the county's leading Holstein breeders and his exhibits at the county fair will be remembered by the farmers who visited the Holstein barn at the fair when it was first built.

Real Estate Note.

Father (mockingly to young suitor)—Well, the nerve of you to ask my daughter to share your lot when you haven't a single foot of real estate in your name.

Sunset Colors.

The gorgeous sunset colors are due to the red light which is transmitted through the cloudy sky and is the reverse of the blue of the sky. Water is apparently blue in itself when one looks through a sufficiently long layer. If, however, there were nothing to reflect the light back, the water would, of course, look black, and certain lakes do show exactly this phenomenon. If there is a small amount of reflecting particles the water looks blue. With more suspended particles a certain amount of yellow is sent back, and the water becomes green. In the tropics the water is an intense blue, except near the shore, where it becomes an almost equally intense green.

The water of the Rhone where it flows out of the Lake of Geneva is blue, while the Rhine of Strasbourg is green, and we find that the Rhine contains 70 per cent more suspended calcium carbonate than the Rhone. Sometimes the water in a swimming tank will be green. This is due to suspended solids in the water. The same effect can occasionally be obtained in a porcelain-lined bathtub. The clear brown brooks that one finds in many places in New England owe their color to the presence of a brown material of the nature of tannin, so this would really be a pigment color and not a structural one.—Scientific American.

Changing the Color of Gems.

It is possible to change the color of precious and semiprecious stones by exposing them to the action of radium. A Frenchman who has devoted himself to this study has obtained remarkable results. He bought sapphires of different kinds and put them in a box with a small quantity of radium. At the end of a month the transformations were as follows: White sapphires had become yellow; blue, green; violet, blue; wine-colored stone, red; dark blue, violet.

Ancient Hunger Strikers.

Hunger striking is not the modern development most people think. In the seventeenth century, Evelyn, the diarist, discovered cases and made notes of them. "I had the curiosity to visit some Quakers here in prison," he wrote of a visit he made to Ipswich in July, 1656, "a new sect which show no respect to any man, magistrate or other. . . . One of these was said to have fasted twenty days; but another, endeavoring to do the like, perished on the tenth, when he would have eaten, but could not."
